Five of the Largest Wholesale Grocery Houses to Go Down to South Seventh Street Into a Mammoth Eight-Story Block to Be Erected by Samuel Cupples.

The "Post-Dispatch" Makes the First Announcement of the Big Change.

The Alkire Grocer Co., James H. Brookmire & Co., the Goddard-Peck Grocery Co., the Adam Roth Grocery Co., and E. G.
Scudder & Bro. to Occupy One Mammoth Block on the West Side of Seventh Street, Between Spruce and Poplar Streets—A Scheme of the Samuel Cupples Real Estate Association Which Was Quietly Worked, and Which Is Now Told for the First Time—The Samuel Cupples Establishment to Occupy a Store in the Same Block of Buildings—The Leases Signed in the Last Couple of Days, to Date From January 1, 1890—Interviews With Mr.
Samuel Cupples and All the Parties to the Transaction—Descriptions of the New Buildings—Why the Move Is Made—The Plan in Detail Published in Full by the "Post-Dispatch."

Within the past couple of days five of the leading wholesale grocery houses of the city have signed leases which promise to entirely revolutionize the wholesale business of the city. They are to leave Main and Second streets, where they have for years been located, and to occupy stores in a block to be erected for their special purpose on the west side of Seventh from Poplar to Spruce streets. It will probably be a year before they make the change. The project was planned and managed by Mr. R. S.
Brookmire, vice-president and general manager of the Samuel Cupples Wooden Ware Co. This firm under the name of the Samuel Cupples Real Estate Co., owns the old market house property on South Seventh street, where the new structure is to be erected. They purchased the place from the city several years ago and since that time it has been unoccupied, except that at the time the Cupples company used it as a warehouse. The Cupples Real Estate Co., kept buying property in that neighborhood, however, until now they own nearly everything between Spruce and Poplar streets from Seventh to Eleventh streets. They were convinced that the place could be made very valuable business property on account of the railroad facilities, as it lies right at the Union Depot and Missouri Pacific and "Frisco" freight yards. Some time ago Mr. Brookmire got to work on plans for a large business block to occupy the old market site. He carefully nursed his project and saw nothing to himself but to see that it was carried out.
Anybody on the subject until he had all his plans matured. Then he set about procuring tenants for the block. He determined to first take the wholesale grocery trade, and to have territory and with this idea in view everybody who had a store in the city was only too glad to give up the old place for his tenants. This was a few weeks ago.
He visited the principal wholesale grocers of the city and explained to them his plans. He pointed out to them the advantages of the proposed structures over their over the present location, and wanted them to take leases on the stores. The buildings in which he wanted them to take space are at front on Seventh street and run from Spruce to Poplar streets. They are to be eight stories high and to be brick and iron and thoroughly fire-proof. As they are intended for very heavy business, the walls will be massive and the structures most substantial. The structures will cost $200,000, and the contract for erection has already been let. Aside from the public opinion, the fact that the largest building contractors ever let here, in the rear are to be warehouses for the use of the stores in front.
The center of the structure will be a covered court into which railroad tracks will be run, and from there the goods can be loaded directly from the cars without any hauling by wagon whatever. This will be a big saving to them and is the principal advantage of the project. Then the stores will be far enough west to avoid the principal highway from the Levee to Fourth street and is so hard on teams. Wagon will only be necessary here, if it is desired to supply the local trade.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BUILDING.
In the building to be erected there will be seven stories, all of which face on Seventh street. Five of these have already been leased to wholesale grocery firms, and the Samuel Cupples Woodenware Co. will occupy one, so that only one remains to be rented. The stores will have a uniform depth of 125 feet, and each is to be supplied with two elevators. The Samuel Cupples Co. will occupy the store at the corner of Seventh and Spruce streets, which will have a frontage of seventy-five feet.

WHO THE TENANTS ARE.
At the corner of Seventh and Poplar streets will be two stores, having a frontage of 75 feet each and the four stores extending between them and the store to be occupied by Cupples will face 50 feet each on Seventh street. E. G.
Scudder & Bro. will occupy the store adjoining Cupples' corner, then will come Goddard, Peck & Co., Alkire & Co. and James H. Brookmire & Co. In the order named. The corner store of 75 feet frontage has not yet been rented and the adjoining building which also has a frontage of 75 feet will be taken by the Adam Roth Grocery Co. These are five of the largest grocers in the city. It is said that Kraft, Holmes & Co., are endeavoring to dispose of their present business quarters on Fourth and Christy avenues, so as to move into the new Cupples building. The Greasy-Burnham Grocer Co. own the building they occupy on Second street and Christy avenue and it is claimed that even they may move into the new neighborhood in a few years.

THE LEASES.
All the leases in the new structure are for twenty years, which will run from January 1, 1890. It is questionable, however, whether the building will be completed by that time. The stores proper on Seventh street will be erected first and the warehouses on the second and third stories. When the building is complete, the Samuel Cupples Co. will no doubt proceed to erect other stores in the neighborhood on the ground owned there by them as it is their intention to eventually draw all the wholesale business of the city to that quarter.

MR. ADAM ROTH
of the Adam Roth Grocery Co., was seen this morning in reference to the project and was at first opposed to saying anything, as he preferred to let Mr. Brookmire do the talking.
When he learned that the Post-Dispatch knew much about the scheme, he remarked: "Well, as Mr. Brookmire informs me he has closed all his leases I guess there is no harm in my telling what I know for if you are going to publish it anyhow it is best to get it correct. Mr. Brookmire was in here yesterday and I signed my lease. He told me the other four firms who are to move to the building had already signed theirs. We all signed leases for five years each, as that was as long as he would grant them for. His plan, as I understand it, is to rent the building to wholesale grocers only, and the five firms secured are all in the business. I am concerned in another store of business, endeavoring to rent a store in the building, but he would not let them have it. Cupples' own store will be the only one in the block which is not a wholesale grocery. Our leases read from the last of January next year, but I have no idea that the building will actually be ready for us before about the first of next year. When about this time next year. When that building is occupied I think it is the intention to erect other buildings that neighborhood as the Cupples company owns considerable real estate about there and only wholesale grocers will be accommodated in the other buildings I do not know, but I think there will be all classes of wholesale trade represented.
The property will be devoted exclusively to the wholesale business. There are thirty-seven wholesale groceries in the city you can see that they could occupy a great many buildings, but all of them could not be induced to move into them. It is merely a wholesale grocer's move and they not have any effect. I should think, on any other line of business.
The buildings down here are old and hardly strong enough for the heavy wholesale grocery business. Mr. Brookmire promises to erect buildings adapted especially to our trade and so strong that they cannot be broken down by any weight that can be put in them. Then we will have the railroad tracks right up to our back doors and they will be under cover, so that we can load and unload in all kinds of weather.
Besides there will be a warehouse in which we can put our goods in case we do not want to place them in our stores. The building is to be thoroughly fire-proof, and supplying our local trade we will avoid this loss, which down here, which is so common to horses. It will, of course, require a great deal of money to carry out this Cupples project, but that firm has it and their credit is simply unlimited."

JOSEPH W. GODDARD said: "I have no project contemplating removal. The project is that of R. S. Brook-mire. I have agreed to build a number of stores, and several wholesale grocery firms have agreed to occupy them."
"What is the reason of the move?"
"There are several. In the first place where we are now situated we are remote from railway facilities, while the new location will give us direct freight communication. Then the ill health of our business, and the fact that the old building is so old and dilapidated, is very steep, and hard on the teams. All these disadvantages will be avoided in the new location. In addition we will have a fine, well-built structure, built in the modern style, in place of the old building now occupied, which have long been out of date, and were never designed for the style of business done nowadays."

JAMES H. BROOKMIRE was seen at his office, but when questioned as to the proposed change declined to say anything. "The wholesale business is in the hands of Mr. Brookmire," said Mr. Brookmire, "and I do not care to say anything about it at present. Later I will give you all the particulars."

"Then there is no doubt that an agreement has been entered into between your firm and Mr. Brookmire to occupy one of the stores to be built by him."
"We shall probably move, but I must again refer you to Mr. Brookmire." From another source it was learned that the cause of the removal was two-fold, first to secure direct communication with the railroads, and second to obtain a building adapted to the growing business of the firm, which was well known to have increased in the last three years very largely.
The firm was founded by James H. Brookmire in New York in 1870, and since that time, especially in the tea and sugar business, and feels the necessity of being in close connection with the railroads.

VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE ALKIRE GROCERY CO., said: "I am not now at liberty to say anything about the matter, further than that we will probably move within eighteen months." Said Mr. Brookmire about the affair:
"Why are you contemplating a move?"
"Well, we were burnt out a couple of years ago and drove into this building. It was not exactly suited to us, and that is the cause of our removal."
At the establishment of E. G. Scudder & Bro., nothing could be learned beyond the fact that a removal was contemplated.

who was seen, admitted that his firm had been at work on such a project. "Mr. Brookmire has had the matter on hand, however," he remarked, "and I would prefer you to see him."
"You see I don't know in just what shape he has it, and I don't know how much of the building is to be used. I am sure, however, that everything will be settled and in such a position that it will give you the full particulars of the project."

THE CAPITAL INVOLVED.
The removal of these five business houses will involve the transfer of a large amount of capital to a section of the city hitherto entirely abandoned for business purposes.
The business done by the firm of James H.
Brookmire & Co. is estimated to be about $1,200,000 annually.
The firm carries a stock valued at $200,000, and its assets are estimated at between $300,000 and $400,000.
It has been in business for over thirty years.
For many years the firm bore the name of Brookmire, Bonken & Scudder.
Three years ago E. G. Scudder retired, and the firm was reorganized as Brookmire & Co.
The present partners are James H. Brookmire and A. G. Baner. The private estate of Mr. Brookmire is valued at $100,000, and that of Mr. Baner at over $50,000.
The present business of the firm is the Alkire Grocery Co. is composed of Joseph Alkire, F. H. Bonken, W. D. Scott, A. E.
Wick and Thos. Shore. It has an authorized capital of $500,000, and its assets are valued at $100,000. The amount of business done by it exceeds $600,000 a year. It is the first firm of the kind in the city. It went into business thirty-seven years ago, having an establishment on the corner of Main and Market streets. The firm afterwards moved to 104 North Second street, where it remained until 1887, at which time it was driven out by fire and moved to its present quarters.
The firm of E. G. Scudder & Co., 620 North Second street, is composed of E. G. Scudder and Wm. H. Scudder. The firm as at present composed was organized in January, 1888.
E. G. Scudder, the senior partner, was first an employee and afterward a partner of the firm of Brookmire & Bonken.
In 1880 he entered into partnership with Schweppes, the firm bearing the name of Schweppes & Scudder. On Mr. Schweppes' withdrawal W. H. Scudder became partner.
The stock carried by the firm is valued at $100,000, and it does an annual business of over $500,000. The capital stock is $50,000 with a considerable surplus.
The firm of Goddard, Peck & Co. is composed of Joseph W. Goddard, James H. Goddard and W. H. Lawson, doing business at 100 North Second street. They have been engaged in business for the past ten years and have a capital stock of $150,000, with a surplus of $50,000. The annual business of the firm amounts to over $750,000.
The Adam Roth Grocery Co., doing business at 100 North Main street, is a corporation, having been organized in January, 1887, with an authorized capital of $50,000. It is composed of Adam Roth and his two sons, George A. Roth and John H. Roth. The stock capital is valued at $50,000, and business to the amount of $400,000 is done annually. This firm has an excess of assets over liabilities of nearly $100,000.

THE AGGREGATE AMOUNT OF BUSINESS DONE BY THESE FIVE FIRMS, which will occupy the new building is, at a moderate estimate, $4,000,000, and it is expected that this total will soon be largely increased.

A FURTHER EXPLANATION.
A report is current in real estate circles that one reason for the removal is that the property occupied by the firms has been seized directly or indirectly, by those interested in the St. Louis Bridge & Tunnel

All the officers of the company are relocated. But it is stated that the erection of large freight depots is contemplated on both sides of Main street, and that the storehouses tributary to the new system will extend west to Third street. The old buildings will not be torn down, but will be remodelled and switches will be run to such points as may be deemed advisable. The sales, it is stated, have not yet been made, but options on much of the property between Washington avenue and Chestnut street and the Levee and Third street, have been given good for six months, and the transfers will be made within this period.

CAN'T BE FOUND.
A Colorado Robber Traced on His Way to St. Louis, but Not Captured.

Although the police and detectives have watched the Union Depot and searched the prominent resorts of the city, they have so far failed to find one Henry T. Strauss of Denver, Colo., who is accused of stealing $25,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry from his employer, L.
Cornwall of Salsola, Colo., in the absence of that gentleman. From information furnished by Chief of Police Z. T.
Farley of Denver, Strauss packed the jewelry into a trunk on the 11th inst. and boarded a train for Kansas. Strauss was seen to take a train for St. Louis, but he cannot be located in this city. Strauss is a Frenchman, a watchmaker by occupation, and is described as being 5 feet, 5 inches tall, weighs 140 pounds and has black curly hair and black mustache. A reward of $200 is offered for his arrest.

Where Is Delegate Lehmann?
Delegate Julius Lehmann, against whom an indictment has been found for falsely swearing to applications for naturalization papers, did not put an appearance to-day at the Government Building. Lehmann is under bond on a complaint before Commissioner Crawford. Yesterday he was to have had a hearing before the Commissioner, but his attorney secured a continuance. His attorney, Mr.
F. Dyer said he would have an appearance this morning, but the Delegate was not on hand to be re-arrested. The preliminary trial will come up again to-morrow afternoon, but the officials are by no means as confident as his attorney that they will see the Delegate.

A Fatal Dose.
By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.
JACKSONVILLE, Ill., May 14.—Last night W.
W. Brown, cashier of the bank of Waverly, at Waverly, this county, came to Jacksonville to testify in a case before the Circuit Court this morning. He put up at the Pacific Hotel, returning about 11 o'clock. It is suspected that he took a morphine overdose. He retired, supposing it to be nothing for him to do, and he was found in his room at the Pacific. Before retiring he left orders to be called at 7 o'clock this morning, which was done, and he was found unconscious, and remained so until 10:30, when he died.

Collected for Farnell.

White Cross Home Reception.
A reception for the benefit of the White Cross Home will be given on Friday night 8 o'clock in the afternoon to 10 o'clock at night at the residence of Mrs. J. A. St. John, 215 South Jefferson avenue. Music of the very best quality will be given, and refreshments will be served. The reception will undoubtedly be a most pleasant affair and is for a very worthy object. The admission fee, which will include refreshments, will be 50 cents. The affair will be a success and it is hoped to be well patronized and very successful.

An Old Broker's Failure.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 13.—It was announced at the Old Exchange this afternoon that Dewitt Dilworth, a prominent broker, had failed for about $50,000. He was unable to meet his contracts ten days ago, but it was thought that he could arrange the matter with his creditors. The ten days' limit expired to-day and the announcement was posted. It is rumored that the failure was caused by an attaché of a bank jailing to pay an order which he had with Mr.
Dilworth.

Murderous Tramps.
ALTOONA, Pa., May 14.—Five tramps attacked James Burns, a farmer on the mountains, in this city, above Twenty-fourth street this morning, and robbed him of $30. They also stripped him of his clothing and left him for dead at the side of the railroad.
A terrible fight took place in a railroad cut between the city police and the tramps. Four of the gang were captured, manacled and taken to the city jail. A posse is after the fifth.

The Copper Syndicate.
NEW YORK, May 14.—Members of the copper syndicate and the American agents of the late French copper trust, who returned yesterday from Europe, held a meeting this morning at the Hotel Brunswick. The gentlemen present declined to say anything regarding the nature of the business transacted at the meeting, but it is understood that the returned agents presented a report concerning the manipulation of the copper market by European dealers.

Diphtheria at Edwardsville.
By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.
EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., May 14.—Diphtheria still lurks in the air, and occasionally drops down upon and carries away a victim. The last was Edmund, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Wolf, who was seized with the malady during Mr. Wolf's absence at the New York Centennial, and died last Saturday.

Annie Pixley Improving.
NEW YORK, May 14.—Annie Pixley, the actress, who is lying ill with pneumonia at the Westminster Hotel, is said to-day not to be in any immediate danger. Her physician called before noon and found that the slight fever noticeable yesterday had been allayed.
He expects to see his patient able to resume work in about ten days.

A Rich Man's Suicide.
By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.
MOORET, Mo., May 14.—News was received from Calao, Macon County, that Richard Phipps committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. He was a man of wealth and high social position, and was a local politician of considerable influence. No cause is assigned for the deed.

Poker Players Fined.
R. N. Jones, Frank Howard, John Lawrence, Hugh Hoffman, John Fraser and John Schmidt, poker players pulled in last evening by Detective Hobery and Kelly, were each fined in the First District Police Court this morning.

AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT.
OLYMPIC—"Little Lord Fauntleroy."
FORD—"East Lynne."
MATINEES TO-MORROW.
OLYMPIC—"Little Lord Fauntleroy."
FORD—"East Lynne."

The indications for twenty-four hours, commencing at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri are: Fair weather, followed on Wednesday by local rains; warmer in southern portion; cooler in northern portion; variable winds.

BEFORE there is any further discussion or criticism of Mr. DEWEY's centennial oration, let it be settled definitely as to whose oration it was that Mr. DEWEY delivered.

CONGRESSMAN KINSEY is not saying much, but his wordplay is growing mighty fast. It is hardly necessary to call attention to the reverse order of things in the cases of the other St. Louis Congressmen.

Gov. HILL has again placed himself in the way of electoral reform by vetoing the Saxton bill. The Governor appears to be rapidly making himself an impossibility as the presidential candidate of a great reform party.

Mr. DEWEY should have had the bill for his centennial oration audited and paid for as one of the expenses of the centennial celebration. Thus his feelings and his pocketbook would have been spared from the Rev. Mr. TOWNE's attack.

The bill for the relief of the office of Recorder of Deeds will probably come up in to-night's meeting of the Municipal Assembly. This is a case in which a false notion of economy would be in direct opposition to the interests of citizens.

VID L. GITT, a hold-over St. Louis abolition in the Pension office, has had name made good by special order of the President for disrespectful conduct to Mr. Harrison's father. It is clearly a case of "git," however, for all Democrats, and for Republicans who stand in the way of the Harrison family.

THE question, Where is ADAM NEIBERT? must be passed alongside of that interesting question as to the present location of the principal witness in the election fraud case against Delegate JULIUS LEHMAN. The Republican Sergeant-at-Arms of the Municipal Assembly is mysteriously missing, but Delegate LEHMAN still holds his seat among the city legislators.

The official ballot containing names to be voted for as well as names to be voted against is pronounced unconstitutional in Gov. HILL's veto message. But in this same message he says he would approve a bill providing this unconstitutional ballot, if it also contained provision for the re-election of the old private "blocks-of-five" ballot. Gov. HILL was vetoing his nomination for the Presidency when he thought he was vetoing electoral reform.

SINGULARLY enough nearly every railroad official who has been examined by the Senate committee on the operation of the interstate commerce law has expressed a different opinion, but all agree in criticizing the law itself. There is good reason to believe, however, that burglars would be unanimous in criticizing the law against house-breaking. How would it do for the Senate committee to examine some of the people whom the law does not regulate but benefits?

It appears from a Washington dispatch that the report of Secretary NOATZ's willingness to have settlers enter the Sioux reservation in advance of the transfer of the lands from the Indians to the Government is a canard. The Secretary is said to be determined to enforce the law against all unauthorized settlers. It is unfortunate that a contrary report should have been spread, and many will doubtless not upon it and thus cause trouble. It is to be hoped that whatever plan may be decided upon, it will avoid the drop-of-the-hat rush which marked the opening of Oklahoma.

A SHOCKING RECORD.

The Rev. CANON WILBERFORCE, a distinguished clergyman of the Church of England, presents in the March number of the Contemporary Review a terrible catalogue of the sufferings inflicted on Ireland by English misrule, and among other things says:

During the last fifty years, the reign of Queen Victoria, in spite of certain ameliorations wrought with difficulty from the British Parliament, we have the horrible record, under the cold arithmetic of which lies hid an aggregate of agony indescribable: Died of famine, 1,235,000; evicted by landlords, 1,688,000; emigrated, 4,486,000; land gone out of tillage in the last twenty years, 100,000 acres; good land now waiting for reclamation, 1,500,000 acres.

While a loyal and patriotic Englishman, one of the great lights of the Church of England, was arraying such historical facts as these, showing what torture and despair the English system of governing Ireland had inflicted on her people for hundreds of years past, the Parnell Commission was engaged for months in recording stories of Irish agrarian outrages and crimes by way of justifying that system. But all the stories gathered, with all the resources of the British Government actively employed in the work, make, when summed up, but a trifling catalogue of ordinary crimes such as similar distress and provocation would produce in any land. But if they had been a thousand times as numerous, and a thousand times as cruel and fatal to human life, they would not have been as atrocious and as disgraceful to humanity as the fruits of the English system in Ireland presented in the brief paragraph above quoted. In view of such a well authenticated statement of the facts of recent history, each outrage recorded before the Parnell Commission only adds another count to CANON WILBERFORCE's terrible indictment of British misgovernment in the sister island. A Christian Government may cause more suffering and commit crueler crimes in the name of law and order and religion than savage individuals or even frantic mobs.

CONGRESSMAN NIEDERHOF DENIES

FILLERY's active imagination and monumental gall seem to be working him to a greater depth in the beef tussle than his actual demerits would sink him.

FROM THE BUFFALO COURIER.

The vicious statement of the New York Sun, that Mr. Cleveland left the reviewing stand in Madison Square when he saw the Buffalo troops coming, was viciously copied by the Buffalo Express, both papers supposing, or pretending to suppose, that Mr. Cleveland had a dislike for Buffalo which he wished to vent by insulting her citizen soldiers. Now mark how plain a tale shall put this lying slander down. Mr. Cleveland did leave the stand when he saw the first Buffalo regiment, the Seventy-fourth. But it was not to avoid the regiment—it was to join it. He fell into the ranks of the company which happened to be passing when he reached the street, and marched with it, being tremendously cheered by the spectators at every step. When he reached the Victoria Hotel, where he lives, he left the line, went into the hotel, brought Mrs. Cleveland out to the first-floor balcony, and there both remained, bowing and waving to the cheering throngs, until the Buffalo troops had passed. This information comes from one of the members of the Seventy-fourth and Sixty-fifth regiments, who described what they personally saw, and what they accepted as a friendly greeting and compliment.

HOW OUR EXPORT TRADE IS LOST.

From the Philadelphia Record.

Before the sugar trust was organized this country's export trade in refined sugar had risen to more than $10,000,000 a year, in spite of the competition of the beet root product of Europe. But the sugar refiners saw that more could be gained by combining ingenuity and cunning in a refined sugar trust, and a result the export trade in refined sugar has been destroyed. While refined sugar cannot come in over the tariff wall, the trust has forced up the price so high that none can go out.

There is but one effective way of defeating the sugar trust and that is by reducing the duty on refined sugar to a revenue standard. Then, should the home monopoly send up prices too high, the foreign sugar would be brought in to reduce the balance in favor of the home product. The sugar refiners are said to be inseparable from the wonderful development of the sugar industry in Louisiana. It is a real danger! The decay of the Roman Republic did not begin when Rome was poor and struggling. The fall came from the climax of her power and luxury. Rome had a plutocracy and an autocracy under the name of a Republic. It is not the absence of democracy gone here when the direction of politics is surrendered to Bosses and the control of the Government is purchased by the money power.

President Harrison's White Face.

From the Philadelphia Telegraph.

The talk about the President's health is somewhat exaggerated. Any one who has heard a story that the President is a sick man and then seen the President for the first time is apt to believe all that he has heard and more. His complexion is of a waxy whiteness, almost startling, but this peculiarity is not a sign of disease. It is a result of the fact that he has been so long in the White House that his system has become accustomed to the artificial light of the interior of the White House, and his complexion has become waxy.

You cannot doubt my wishes to see you appointed to any office of honor or emolument in the new Government, to the duties of which you are competent; but, however deserving you may be of the one you have suggested, your standing at the bar would not justify my nomination of you as attorney to the Federal District Court in preference to some of the oldest and most esteemed general counsel lawyers in your own State who are desirous of this appointment. My political conviction is

"blocks-of-five" system by asking the Legislature to pass another bill which provides for sworn statements of election expenses, forbids the use of pay envelopes and provides for unseating a member on proof of his having used corrupt means. Having vetoed the ounce of prevention Gov. HILL would offer pounds of cure at that stage of the disease in which experience has shown it to be incurable in a large majority of cases.

THE report that Germany recognizes the inconsistency of urging the punishment of MATAYA on account of the killing of German marines, because BISMARCK has already fixed the responsibility for the unfortunate collision of Germans and Samanians upon Consul KAPPE, simplifies the problem before the Berlin Conference. The only question to be settled now is the regulation of foreign control in the islands, and the conciliatory tone of all the powers should make this an easy matter. The prospective satisfactory and amicable outcome of a difficulty that threatened to cause serious disagreement and possibly war between Germany and America is occasion for congratulation.

ONE of Gov. HILL's alleged reasons for vetoing the electoral reform bill is that the State Constitution defines a ballot as a slip containing names to be voted for, and that therefore any bill providing a ballot containing names to be voted against must be unconstitutional. As every ballot contains names which the voter is free to vote for or against, and for every name on which he is free to substitute another, Gov. HILL's constitutional objection is not only far-fetched and flimsy but utterly frivolous.

CONGRESSMAN NIEDERHOF DENIES that any tripartite agreement or understanding existed between himself, the President and Secretary NOBLE with regard to FILLERY and the local postmaster, and the Congressman is further reported as saying that he cannot do anything for "de ole man" until he squares himself with the administration. REV. CRAS O'REILLY OF DETROIT

Arrived here this morning and was met at the train by Dr. Thomas O'Reilly and Mr. William P. Smyth. He was driven to Dr. O'Reilly's residence, on Seventeenth and Washington avenues, and he will be entertained there during his stay in St. Louis. Father O'Reilly is Treasurer of the Irish National League in America and he has come to this city for the purpose of receiving the Post-Dispatch Parnell Defense Fund, which will be handed to him at Music Hall to-night. Father O'Reilly is a young man, about 28 years of age, but he is one of the most active workers in the League and one of its most efficient officers. He has been Treasurer for six years, and during his administration the financial affairs of the League have been wonderfully prosperous.

He was in a very pleasant humor this morning, and when he was asked for some information concerning the work of the League he said: "The position I hold is not very highly spoken of in Scripture. The Apostle who carried the purse was not a very enviable character, and he came to rather a bad end. 'The League is in a very healthy condition, and we are carrying on our work in regular and satisfactory manner. We have got through the winter very nicely, but I received a letter just a few days ago from Father Kenna, the secretary in Dublin, telling me that there had been a great many evictions in Ireland, and that the tenants were being driven from their homes. It is a very sad state of affairs, and it is the duty of the League to do all that is in its power to relieve the tenants. We have already sent $1,500,000 to Ireland during the last six years, and that will probably continue to be the case, since the evictions are so numerous. ST. LOUIS, Tex., May 14.—The dead body of a girl, Gilrich, was found on the International railroad three miles south of town this morning. Both legs were cut off, the head severed, and the body horribly mangled. He had been in Louisiana, but came from Dallas to this place about ten days ago. It is believed he was seeking a ride on the 10 o'clock freight train this morning and fell from it. He was drugged last night and said he was going to San Antonio.
